

Alfred C. Johnson, Board President
National Association for Regulatory Administration
400 South 4th Street, Suite 754E
Minneapolis, MN 55415
Office: 888-674-7052
Cell: 608-473-5137

Alfred C. Johnson currently serves as Board President for the National Association for Regulatory Administration. Alfred has more than 25 years of professional experience serving children, adults and families in child care, child welfare and adult care settings. He has extensive experience working with local, state and national entities to ensure the health, safety and well-being for citizens within his professional scope.

His recent activities include the development of a national coalition to examine and develop assisted living best practices for regulation implementation; establish a network with regulators across the country; promoting quality of care and life within the provider communities and establish partnerships with child care and child welfare regulators and stakeholders

Alfred currently serves as the deputy administrator for the Wisconsin Division of Quality Assurance. As the deputy administrator, Alfred serves as the chief operating officer of the Wisconsin state survey agency. Managing all aspects of the operational infrastructure.

Alfred previously served as the director of the Wisconsin Bureau of Assisted Living. As Director, Alfred is responsible for directing the licensing/certification and ongoing survey activities for the Bureau of Assisted Living. The Bureau provides regulatory oversight for more than 4, 250 assisted living facilities with a bed capacity of 63,600. Alfred works collaboratively with funders, advocates, providers, trade associations, families, residents and other stakeholders.

Alfred is a frequent speaker at health care conferences, community events and serves as the State's emergency support function 6 lead. Alfred lives in Wisconsin and is interested in God, sports and family.