

Tara Lynne Orlowski is the Manager of Instructional Development for the Florida Center for Interactive Media at Florida State University, consultant for the Florida Department of Children and Families Office of Child Care Regulation, and an adjunct early childhood instructor. She has a M.Ed. in Early Childhood Education and is currently working on a Ph.D. in Special Education, with a dissertation concentrating on early childhood professional development.

Ms. Orlowski has been working as an instructional designer for over ten years and is involved in child care regulation activities related to training and policy. In addition, she has worked in higher education since 2003, teaching credit and non-credit courses for five institutions at the undergraduate and vocational level. She has facilitated over forty sessions at national, state, and local conferences as well as webinars.

Ms. Orlowski serves as the Board Vice Chair for the Early Learning Coalition of the Big Bend, which is a not-for-profit organization that provides services to families, children, and child care providers in the seven counties that comprise northern Florida's Big Bend Region. She is a Commissioner for the International Association for Continuing Education and Training and on the Council for Standards Development.
